

Attend the Primaries.

By far the larger number of township caucuses will be held Saturday afternoon as recommended by the county central committee. It is to be hoped that in every precinct the republican voters will be in attendance that a true test of public sentiment may be given. The usual methods of the politicians to control the primaries and name the delegations in the various townships are being employed and a determined effort will be made by them to dictate the nominations of the convention.

There are thirteen positions for county offices on the ticket this fall. Every office in the county except commissioner in the first district is to be filled. This in addition to the fact that a presidential and state election are also to be held, makes the campaign of 1904 very important and notwithstanding the busy season everyone should be present at the primaries.

The interest at the present time centers in the selection of candidates for the county offices. The republican party has a splendid opportunity to win and from the list of candidates who are seeking support a strong and excellent ticket can be named.

The issue in Kansas politics is the anti-machine crusade. So far as the state politics are concerned machine politics are practically a thing of the past. The element however which has dominated the machine politics also the republican party for the past two or three years is still active and doing business in county affairs.

Whether it is to control at the coming convention is for the people to say. It is well represented among the candidates and has active workers in every part of the county. If the primaries are attended by few, it means that machine politics are still to control in Phillips county. If the people attend and emphatically express their opinion, the people will rule as they rightfully ought.

The HERALD has no fight against men. It has a fight against methods such as have won in the past. It has upheld the principles of the republic can party for what they represent and not for the benefit of any set of faction. It has been an advocate of the rights of the people and has taken a decisive stand against the dictation of a few.

For these reasons the HERALD would like to impress every republican with the necessity of attending the caucuses, expressing their sentiments and standing for the principles they believe to be right.

This is in perfect harmony with true republicanism and will eventually lead to popular government and the overthrow of the bosses.

County Attorney Arrested.

Last Friday afternoon upon warrant issued from the court of J. Wickwar of Valley township, County Attorney T. M. Sullivan was placed under arrest, the complaint charging misconduct in office, first for disclosing the evidence taken at the inquisition held in Kirwin on June 28 to J. E. Kirkpatrick and the second for failure to file forthwith, as provided by law, in some court of competent jurisdiction, the findings so taken in the inquisition above mentioned.

Mr. Sullivan had gone to Kirwin Friday for the purpose of holding an inquisition and as he considered himself authorized to do, had called to his assistance R. F. Stinson and Rev. Kirkpatrick of Kirwin. While the hearing was in progress W. G. Bissell demanded admission, which was refused.

Mr. Bissell is the legal advisor of Chas. Stockman and T. K. Smith. Representing them he proceeded to the office of Justice of the Peace Wickwar and had the complaint above mentioned sworn out.

The warrant was placed in the hands of Under Sheriff Landes who was at Kirwin at that time but who refused to serve until he had been so instructed by Sheriff Utter.

Saturday afternoon habeas corpus proceedings were instituted before Probate Judge Countryman and the sheriff directed to release Mr. Sullivan from custody.

World's Fair Letter.

St. Louis, August 3rd, 1904
To the Editor of the Herald:
My first glimpse of the great Louisiana Purchase Exposition was on the evening of my arrival at St. Louis, when my brother took me for a street car ride that I might see the illumination, from a point outside the grounds, where we could have the best view of it. He lives in the west end of the city, including its interesting exhibits, from a height of 285 feet.

I should like to speak of another exhibit, which seems to me one of the most interesting. I refer to the Jerusalem exhibit. An impression has got abroad that it is a "fake," in great part, at least, and some who have visited Jerusalem in Palestine claim that it is very unlike the original, but I am told by a clergyman that a friend of his who had spent some time in the city of David says that the exhibit is very much like it in miniature. Those who go in expecting to see a great show are no doubt disappointed. To make a show place of it in the vulgar acceptance of the word has not been the intent and purpose of the projectors. Their purpose has been an educational one.

There is no city in the world as interesting as Jerusalem. In and round about it took place events of the greatest importance to the human race on its way to ineffable destiny. It seems to me one should feel a degree of reverence upon entering. Besides many interesting matters concerning the city itself is shown the Mount of Olives, from which Christ preached that wonderful sermon beginning, "Blessed are the poor in spirit; for theirs is the kingdom of Heaven." The street along which he walked to the place of his execution and death, via Dolorosa, is shown. Along this street is the Ecce Homo arch. The supposed place of his tomb is shown and other interesting places in the city, as the Tower of David, the mosque of Omar, etc. There are camels and donkeys and their drivers and shops where visitors are importuned to buy wares, just as is done in Jerusalem itself. One of the most interesting souvenirs, and there are many, of the Exposition is an album of Jerusalem. It is gotten up in good taste, has a front piece in colors of the Jerusalem exhibit and contains much interesting information.

There are many ways of spending money on the Fair grounds. Even water is sold in many places, usually for a penny a glass. But at the state house water is free and at other places throughout the grounds. A penny-in-the-slot machine will give you water.

Evening is the proper time to see the "Pike" when all the different foreign elements from the shows there come outside in a sort of general dress parade preliminary to opening the shows for the evening.

I have not yet been to the Kansas state building, but I was pleased with the Kansas exhibit in Agricultural Hall. The weather has been delightfully cool and pleasant most of the time since I came, with just enough rain to cool the air. I wondered several times at their being lightning without rain in the evening, until I discovered it was a searchlight traveling around at a rapid rate. There seem to be several of these great lights in the city.
The "west end" is the residence part of the city and contains many fine homes and beautiful streets, shaded and cool, away from the bustle and dirt of "down town." Many fine houses here have been thrown open to visitors, who find a room in a private residence, with a home cooked breakfast and bath much to be preferred to a place in a hotel being generally both cheaper and better. A room is usually from 75 cents to a $1 and many give breakfast for 25 cents. A cot will cost 50 cents and the bath is free.

I will cheerfully give any information I can to anyone who will call on me at my home in Marvin or address me with stamp.

Bert Blaisdell, the coal chute foreman, expects to leave before long to take a Sunday position on the Union Pacific Road. We have not learned whom his successor is to be. All wish Bert well wherever he may go.
Geo. W. Parker has been working in Frank Hain's and John Roth's places for a few days. This Mr. Parker is not the Democratic Presidential candidate, but a boiler maker from Fairbury to which place he returned last Tuesday morning.

T. L. Cook went down to Fairbury last Saturday to get "next" on some of the new accounting.
Clyde Besse is a new employee at the roundhouse.

An extra baggage car has been placed in Nos. 5 and 6 between Phillipsburg and Colorado Springs. This gives greater accommodation for the baggage but makes these trains one car heavier than before.

The dining car on No. 41 Monday had four hot boxes on its arrival here. The car tinks changed all the brasses and repacked the boxes with a delay to the train of but five minutes, and the conductor was so sure that the work was well done that he did not ask that a car man go to Goodland with the train to care for these boxes if they again ran hot.

The employees new time card, on which each man is required to show daily the work he has done and the hours employed, is a daisy. You should hear the boys brag on it.

The engine on No. 10 last Saturday morning dropped an eccentric blade at Norton and an engine was backed to Alma to meet the train and bring it to Phillipsburg. The disabled engine came on in light, and the boys here took hold with a will to repair it and got it ready to go back on No. 41 which was its regular turn out. This was doing exceptionally good work, and was more than was expected by the transportation department, as arrangements had been made to run the engine that came in on No. 6 back on No. 41.

For Sheriff.

J. O. McKenzie of Sumner township this week authorizes his announcement for the office of Sheriff. Mr. McKenzie is an energetic young man who has resided in Phillips county for twenty-nine years. He is at present one of the prosperous young farmers in the northeastern part of the county. He possesses good business ability and is sufficiently qualified to fill the office to which he aspires, with credit to himself and constituents. He has been prominently identified with measures of interest to the republican party and is a man whom his friends are glad to recommend to the voters of Phillips county.
